At Shareppy International we provide solutions for the financial sector.

We work so that banks and the cooperative sector can meet the needs of their clients, through tools such as Mobile Branch.

With our non-bank mobile correspondent, partners or clients can carry out operations, giving mobility to agencies and offering services abroad through mobile devices.

The application sends information to the Banking Core to perform transactions securely and agilely, from the mobile device.

Mobile Branch offers great security to its users, protecting their data and financial information.

In it the farm report is made and allows the printing of supports if it's necessary.

Use the mobile device locator to obtain the georeferencing of transactions and queries made.

It also has off-line functionality, so it can provide timely, agile and secure service and optimize operations processes.

Mobile Branch allows the user to check balances, make withdrawals, consignments, transfers and make online movements.

The tool also generates the list of movements so that the user has control and a record of their operations.

Another option offered by the application is the printing of payment and movement vouchers, in case the user needs this information in physical.

Benefits and results

1. It provides mobility for financial institutions so that they can offer their products to their users in the palm of their hands.
2. Mobile Branch allows you to perform real-time operations safely, optimally and agilely.
3. Increase your presence in the region without the need for additional physical infrastructure.
4. Optimises the collection process and reduces the influx of people into branches.
5. Reduces paper consumption, as the necessary information and movement history can be digitally observed on the user's mobile device.
